

COVID-19 Vaccine Provider Partners For Businesses, Labor Unions and Community Organizations

Businesses, labor unions, and community organizations can help in Ohio’s COVID-19 vaccination efforts by hosting onsite vaccination clinics for interested employees/members/clients who choose to get vaccinated. Those interested in hosting onsite vaccination clinics must partner with an enrolled COVID-19 vaccination provider who is willing to conduct the onsite clinics.

Below is a list of enrolled COVID-19 vaccination providers who have indicated they are willing to conduct onsite vaccination clinics for partnering businesses, labor unions, and community organizations. The list is arranged by county in four categories. Please be sure to review all of them – Local 3rd Party Providers, Retail Chain Pharmacies, Hospitals, and Local Health Departments.

Some providers require a minimum number of employees who are interested in receiving a COVID-19 vaccine at an employer-sponsored clinic. Vaccination providers may bill a vaccine administration fee to the health insurance plan of insured vaccine recipients. However, vaccine recipients themselves cannot be billed, even if they do not have health insurance. Some providers charge businesses and organizations a fee to conduct an onsite vaccination clinic. Vaccination providers may not be able to accommodate every request based on their circumstances at the time.

The Ohio Department of Health offers guidance for employers who want to host onsite COVID-19 vaccination clinics as well as guidance for participating vaccination providers. This guidance and tools and resources are available on the state’s coronavirus website at COVID-19 Vaccination Program for Businesses and Organizations.
